

Joseph S. Zuritsky has been a stalwart member of AJC's Board and Executive Committee for many years. He is a passionate advocate for AJC's mission of protecting Jewish lives and communities, ensuring a safe and secure Israel, and advocating for democratic values and human rights for all. Joe has long been a supporter of interfaith and intergroup dialogue, and a lifelong learner.

Joe is Chairman of Parkway Corporation, a 91-year-old, third-generation, family-owned business, with real estate development and parking operations in nine North American cities. Joe credits the company's growth over the years to its culture of teamwork, strong industry partnerships, and the highest level of integrity, combined with a spirit of innovation. Parkway is now considered a national leader in parking technology and an expert integrator of parking into multi-use developments. Parkway is currently led by Robert Zuritsky and Anna Z. Boni, the oldest of Joe's three children with his wife of 56 years, Renée, who passed away in 2020. Their youngest daughter, Elisa Zuritsky, is an Emmy-nominated television writer and producer.

Joe earned his Bachelor of Science degree from Temple University's Fox School of Business and his Law Degree from Temple's Beasley School of Law. He previously served on the Dean's Council of the Fox School of Business and was awarded its Gallery of Success Award. He is on the Advisory Board of the Philadelphia-Israel Chamber of Commerce.

In addition to AJC, over the years Joe and Renée supported many Jewish and civic causes. Joe has served on the boards of directors of the Jewish National Fund, the Anti-Defamation League, National Museum of American Jewish History, American Friends of Haifa University, American Technion Society, The African American Museum in Philadelphia, and the former Solomon Schechter (now Perelman Jewish Day School). In addition, Joe is a supporter of the United Way, Weizmann Institute and Jack M. Barrack Hebrew Academy, among many others.

Joe is the proud grandfather of 9.
