

How Educational Institutions Can Address Rising Antisemitism

All educational institutions can implement measures to better understand, respond to, and prevent anti-Jewish hatred in our society. AJC's Call to Action Against Antisemitism: A Society-Wide Nonpartisan Guide for America calls on educational institutions to take the following steps:

- ☐ Show awareness of campus antisemitism by having clear policies, including highlighting antisemitism as an essential focus within Diversity, Equity, and Inclusion (DEI) and including it in first-year and transfer students' orientations
- ☐ Keep open lines of communication between Jewish/pro-Israel students and the administration and have a clear system of reporting antisemitic incidents or activity
- ☐ Establish a standing committee/task force to address campus antisemitism comprised of administrators, faculty, and Jewish students (as well as Jewish parents in secondary school spaces)

For more ways educational institutions can address antisemitism, please go to AJC.org/CallToAction.

---

If you have any further questions about how you can fight antisemitism, please be in touch with your local AJC regional office at AJC.org/RegionalOffices or regions@ajc.org.

A Society-Wide
Nonpartisan Guide for America