

Session Three • The Explicit and Implicit Reality of Antisemitism

Happening this week:

Examine Contemporary Manifestations of Anti-Semitism, Both Domestically and Internationally

Formulate Effective Strategies for Combating Anti-Semitism

Analyze what antisemitism is and why it persists in our communities today

This session will push students to think critically about the world's oldest enduring hatred: antisemitism, exploring its manifestation in both historical and modern contexts. Students will leave this session feeling better equipped to define and identify antisemitism and strategize the most effective ways of combating it at its source.

Questions for consideration with your child

As a family, consider questions such as Who perpetuates it? How has it changed over time? Why is it rising? And Where does it occur?

What steps can we take to fight antisemitism here and now? How big of a difference can you make in your community?

What are some of the most effective ways of combating antisemitism? What strategies work better than others?
